‘CULINARY COLLISION’ FEATURES CCSD’S TOP STUDENT CHEFS

Student competition to spotlight Whole Foods Market’s 5% Day in Town Square and Henderson to benefit The Public Education Foundation

LAS VEGAS (April 25, 2016) – On Wednesday, April 27, Clark County School District culinary students will square off in “Culinary Collision” at Whole Foods Market’s Town Square location, spotlighting the 5% Day at Whole Foods Market’s Town Square and Henderson stores.

The Public Education Foundation is partnering with Whole Foods Market in Town Square and Henderson for a 5% Day, which is a community giving day where 5 percent of the store’s net sales are donated to The Public Education Foundation.

Culinary teams will represent Desert Pines High School, East Career & Technical Academy, Rancho High School, Southeast Career & Technical Academy and Southwest Career & Technical Academy.

The competition at Whole Foods Market’s Town Square location (6689 S. Las Vegas Blvd., Las Vegas, NV 89119) begins at 4 p.m. and will be judged by executive chef Eric Klein from Spago Las Vegas as well as three other local culinary experts.
